

Cliff's List Presents:

THE CLIFF'S LIST GUIDE TO THREESOMES

Stories and Strategies

From the Pages of the Seduction Community's Oldest And Most Respected Newsletter

www.cliffslist.com

Disclaimer

The information contained in this book is an opinion, or collection of opinions, and it should be used for personal entertainment purposes only. You are responsible for your own behavior, and none of this book is to be considered legal, personal or relationship advice. The material is provided, as is, without warranty of any kind, either express or implied. Cliff's List Inc. does not warrant, guarantee, or make any representations regarding the use, or the results of the use, of the web sites, products, services or written materials in the terms of correctness, accuracy, reliability, currentness or otherwise. The entire risk as to the results and performance of the web sites, products and services are assumed by you. If the web sites, products, services or written materials are defective, you, and not Cliff's List Inc., assume the entire cost of all necessary servicing, repair or correction. Cliff's List Inc., its owners, suppliers, employees, affiliates, presenters, producers and participants, will not be liable for any damages whatsoever that may result from making use of the activities, advice or information contained herein, including without limitation, damages for loss of business profits, business interruption, loss of business information, or other pecuniary loss.

THE THREESOME RULES

By Alex May

I have had repeated requests for this, so here it is.

Below are rules I worked out for myself, which I use every time I have a threesome with a new woman.

Keep in mind that this stuff might be more useful for the “advanced” people out there, and should be used with care by the beginners.

Rule #1: Set Things Up Right From The Very Beginning

The three magic words here are:

Honest

Direct

Respectful

Let's dissect them one by one.

Honest

At the very first meeting with a new girl, whether I meet her in a club or at some social gathering, I let her know exactly who I am and what my lifestyle is. I used to be too straightforward about it when I started, but I learned to calibrate based on the social setting and the woman's state and mood.

Here's an important realization: even women who might normally be open-minded will indignantly reject you if you bring up the subject too directly, or in an environment where she feels others may judge her for talking about such an "indecent" subject. Even if she's interested in you, she will reject this opportunity if there is even the slightest chance that her close friends/colleagues/family might overhear a single word of our conversation.

This also depends on her friends and colleagues, of course. But it is safer to assume conservative surroundings, and then just drop a hint or two and suggest getting together another time. In the vast majority of cases, she will be happy to meet a guy who is so socially intuitive.

Direct

Once we get together, I do my best to make sure that we both enjoy our conversation: that it's light, fun, and interesting. I honestly tell her about the other women in my life. Often, I do it indirectly, just by telling stories about my other girlfriends, but not directly addressing the sexual nature of my relationships.

Why? Because women are very socially intuitive. They understand anyway.

This is a question of calibrating. Some women do not want to hear about your sexual side. They want to be led into an adventure. Things should "happen" to them, so they can later say, "Oh, all this started as an accident." Others like to hear details and ask questions.

Either way, I am totally honest and open. It took me a couple of years of trial and error to get intuitive about the whole process.

During our conversation, I find out if she has any bisexual experiences. The vast majority of women are in fact bisexual. Frequently, girls want to try, but have just never had the chance. So if at this point I still like her and enjoy her company, I suggest that she meet my other girlfriends some day...on one condition. That she really wants to. I put no pressure on her whatsoever.

Years ago, I used to get very excited about the possibility of having two women in bed, and tried to convince them. The more effort I made, the less interested they became. I made this mistake for years until I learned that it is useless.

Respectful

During the course of our conversation (fun, light, and pleasant) I clearly let her understand that I respect her and the choices she makes. Whatever she decides, I am cool with that. There are plenty of fun things the two of us can do without any other women being involved.

Amusingly enough (and I would not have believed this if someone had told me years ago), some women stay with me in a relationship knowing that I have other women. Their conscious choice is to keep seeing me without meeting my other girlfriends. I respect this.

I know that when the difference in beliefs and values between two people is too great, there is no sense in trying to keep her, or trying to convince her of anything.

Rule #2: The New Woman Is Not Going To Be The Center Of Attention

This part is not so easy for men to manage. When I see, hear, and feel this hot, exciting new girl next to me, my intuitive urge is to give her the biggest share of my attention.

This is a huge mistake.

My other girlfriend will feel neglected, and this will deeply hurt her feelings. This is why I divide my attention 95-5 during our first threesome. That means I give 95% of my attention to my main girl, and only 5% to the new one.

It may sound illogical and strange for many men. However, this rule (and the discipline needed to apply it) have resulted in more threesomes than I can remember. The new girl will receive more than enough attention from my other girl. And more often than not, my other girl will see my devotion and attention to her, and will explicitly ask me to pay more attention to the new girl.

I do so with pleasure (as you can probably imagine), but after a couple of minutes, I usually come back to my girlfriend. Do this, guys, and you will never have any issues afterwards.

Rule #3: Find Out What Her Idea Of A Threesome Is

Before inviting a new woman, I always ask my other girlfriends what threesome rules they would like to follow.

Keep in mind that I have a very open-minded and happy circle of girlfriends, and there are almost no taboos. However, some girls want me to come in them. Others get jealous if I am kissing the other girl too much in the beginning, etc.

Again...honest, direct, and respectful are the key words here.

Rule #4: Communicate During The Threesome

Before you begin, tell both girls that you are not a mind reader. So if they want more/less/harder/softer/etc., they will have to tell you (and each other).

Do not think, however, that just because you have told them this they will comply. You have to watch them both and ask questions.

Here is the last part...

Rule #5: After The Threesome Is Over, Be The Host

Now it's time for all three of you to enjoy the afterglow, and to set up the right frame for the future. Divide your attention equally between both girls.

If you give less attention to the new girl, she will feel alienated and will not be willing to join you again. Be a host now.

Imagine you are at the restaurant, and the girls are paying for you. So just lay back and shower them with your cool personality...

Enjoy trying this out!

THE EIGHTH WONDER OF THE WORLD

By PZN

This is my first 100% sober experience with 2 women. It really is something else when everyone's sober. As far as I'm concerned, if you're drunk, it doesn't even count anymore. You need to know how to do this without needing liquid courage or giving the girls an excuse. You need more game, but it's way more satisfying. Everyone's totally aware of what's happening. As a man, you need to lead every step of the way. Of course, the girls have to be open to this, and ideally "help" you rather than cockblock you.

I always say, in a two-person interaction, you can control 50% of the dynamics. In a three-way interaction, you can only control 33%. In other words, anyone who thinks the guy does all the work is just lying to themselves. I won't pretend as though the women didn't help and want this as much as I did just to get some ego validation from guys in the community. In a way, the guy's job is to allow this to happen. It's to not fuck it up. It's also to screen the right women who are bisexual or bicurious.

By the way, I've never seen any threesome material in the community. I asked many guys to hook me up with stuff, but no one actually did. So I used what I knew and what my instinct told me. I stopped relying on controlling everything and necessarily making it happen. I told myself, it may happen, it may not, accept the imperfection of things. If nothing else, simply have a good time with 2 beautiful women. Don't make the threesome the goal.

One more thing, I'm a guy who talks a lot. You might notice this in the post. I don't shut up. I guess it's because I want to make sure I cover all bases and prepare for all possible contingencies. But truthfully, interactions are never like that. You can never be 100% responsible, because you don't control other human beings. The most you can do is influence them.

That being said, let's move on to how this whole thing went down.

There's a girl I picked up at the gym a few months ago (call her Julia). We're sort of dating now. She's 18. She's got a great personality and is very mature. Aside from the fact that she's really hot and really good in bed, I screened her early on to see whether or not she's bisexual, or at least bi-curious. In other words, I asked questions after sex like, "Have you ever had an experience with another woman?" or, "How many times have you kissed another girl?"

I also told her my philosophy about this stuff when she asked about me trying to have a threesome. I said, “Too many people in society think a threesome is something a guy dreams of or something two girls give a guy. I don’t see it that way. If I decide to share that with you, I want it to be a gift I give you and a gift you give me. It’s something three people share together because they want the pleasure to be more intense.”

I made rules clear, like “This is the kind of intimate event that happens between three people, and stays between them. For example, if you’re my girl, and we share this with one of your girls who’s comfortable with it, we will make sure everyone has the time of their life. But it will stay 100% between us, because society is judgmental and I don’t want anyone feeling guilty or bad for sharing something so beautiful and uniquely intimate together.”

Just for the record, I don’t really date women that aren’t bi-curious. I’m a professional, and I have a list of criteria I need in a woman. This makes things clear from the get-go, and I become the selector, not the selectee. Amongst those criteria are the following: bisexual, very attractive, intelligent, feminine and submissive, extremely clean, adventurous, loves to cook, etc. Basically, if a woman doesn’t have these things, she realizes she doesn’t have what it takes to be with someone like me.

The other week, Julia asked me if I see us ever being in a couple. I responded vaguely with, "You know, you seem to really have the qualities I look for in a girlfriend, but it's important for us to get to know each other better in order to make the best possible decision, because a relationship is something very important and serious to me. For example, I'm slowly getting to know you. I'm realizing you're mature. You seem open-minded about your sexuality when it comes to other women, you seem very respectful of me and my goals, you cook really well (she invited me over for a great candlelight dinner one night) etc."

Basically, it's a way to tell her that if she doesn't have those qualities you look for, you're not really interested in getting serious because you can get better elsewhere. The thing is, I really like her too, and in a way, I sometimes wonder if she'd really be down to be in a serious relationship, or if she just said that. But then again, we pretty much act like a couple in public. Who knows? You can never control another person. I guess you need to know what you yourself want, and not expect from the other person more than they're willing to give.

Fast forward to last week. We were training together at the gym and I kept teasing her, grabbing her ass or her pussy while she was exercising. She kept getting pissed off, but excited. At some point when I got close, she initiated the conversation. And this is why I say a girl needs to be down herself. She's like, "Hey, you know, I was talking to one of my girlfriends this week about what we talked about.”

I’m like, “Sure. And?”

She’s like, “Well, she’s really interested to try something like that, but she’s not sure if our friendship (Julia and her friend) would stay the same.”

I responded with, “I want you guys to be super comfortable about this. It’s my number one rule. I know that if you truly respect each other, even if we all shared some intimate moments, you would still respect each other if your friendship is real.”

She says, “It is real.”

So I said, “Well what kind of girl is she, what’s she look like?”

She answers, “She’s really hot. She’s Latina.”

In my head, I’m thinking nice. Then I said, “You know what, don’t pressure her. I know both of us know we could make this something really enjoyable for everyone, but why don’t we all just hang out and not do anything? Let’s just see how the energy is between all three of us.”

She goes, “That’s a good idea.”

So I told her, "One more thing. I want you to tell me if there's something you wouldn't feel comfortable with me doing to your friend, like kissing her, or holding her."

She says, "No, she's my best friend, with her, you can do anything"

I said, "Ok, you trust her?"

She's like, "Yeah."

(For the record, the whole "Let's hang out without expectations" thing was an idea given to me by Frank B. Kermit. This guy is probably one of the only guys I know who's able to teach game in a way that will truly change you as a whole. He will turn game into something you are, not something you do.)

Anyway, last night I sent her a text asking her if she'd like to grab a cup of something warm because it's so rainy outside. She texted back with, "I'd have loved to, but I'm with my friend and we're working on a school project. We're going to the gym after. Do you want to meet her?"

I text back with, "Well, I already hit the gym today, but you guys can drop by after for a shisha if you'd like." This was at 6 pm. She texts back 10 minutes later with, "Is it ok if we come by at 7:30 pm.?" I said "Sure."

I was fucking nervous because I didn't know what to do or what not to do. I simply told myself, "PZN, deep inside you already know what you have to do. You can't control everything that happens, just try and have a good time, and realize that you want it to happen. It might, or might not."

I got a call from her at 7:10 and they were downstairs. They came up and I said, "You guys are early!"

Julia's like, "I'm sorry!"

I'm like, "Why don't you go out and wait in the rain for 20 minutes and ring the doorbell again?"

This makes both of them laugh and I ask them to come in. She introduces her friend to me. Hot Latina. Petite with a really nice face and perky little ass. I take their coats and tell them to come in and make themselves comfortable. I talk to both of them a little bit. I give Julia a kiss on the lips and the other one a kiss on her cheek. I tell her, "Sorry, no kisses on the lips for you!"

They both laugh. The vibe is good. We talk a bit more and I ask if they're down for shisha. They're like "Sure!" I ask them to follow me because I need their help. I get them both really involved and make sure none of them feel left out.

Whenever I kiss or kino Julia, I make sure I lightly kino the other one too. For example, if Julia said something funny, I would tell her she's hilarious and kiss her on the cheek. Then, 2 minutes later, when HBLatina talked, I would hug against her and say stuff like, "Omg, you're almost as crazy as your friend here!" I obviously had to make HBLatina feel more and more comfortable because she was the one I hadn't slept with yet.

So I did a variety light-kino escalation things. When I needed to get a shisha I asked them, "Ok, who is lighter between the two of you?" I look at them and say "HBLatina, you look lighter, come here." They're both like, "Omg, you're so mean!" I'm like, "You girls are hilarious, I didn't say Julia's fat, I said you're lighter. I mean isn't someone necessarily lighter lol?"

I lift her up and ask her to grab my shisha from the top of the fridge. This was an example of great natural playful kino escalation. Then I compliment them and say, while preparing the shisha, "You guys look so damn cute together." The Latina's like, "Yeah, Julia's my babygirl!" Julia's like, "No, HBLatina's my babygirl!" I'm like, "You guys should be a couple!" They're like, "Yeah, we're lesbians." I'm like, "Damn, we have something in common, I'm a lesbian too! But don't tell anyone."

I keep the vibe playfully sexual like this. I tell Julia to stand up and I hug her and HBLatina looks at us. I'm like, "Aww, HBLatina, you can't just sit there, come be part of the hug. It's a triangle here. No one gets left out. Sharing is caring." They laugh and we all hug. I give Julia a kiss on the cheek and give HBLatina a kiss on the cheek, too. I break off the threeway hug and tell them to go smoke shisha.

Then Julia's like, "Hey PZN, you have to show her how good you are at Bachata." The thing is, Julia's really shy to dance Bachata with me because I'm really good. HBLatina taught Julia. So I'm like, "All right I'll dance with her." We go to the living room and I put on some bachata. I leave the room so that they can be together for a few minutes. I come back and notice they are dancing Bachata together. I start dancing with Julia and then tell her to go smoke the shisha until the smoke's ready. I start dancing with HBLatina. She dances close. I know she's into me.

Then Julia got up and I poked her titty just to tease her. And HBLatina's like "Hahaha!"

Julia says, "Yeah, he's crazy."

I'm like, "Yeah, you don't know the half of it," and I poke HBLatina's tit, too.

She says, "Omg, you can't do that." Julia goes and hugs her right away.

I'm tell her, "Sorry if you didn't like it, you can poke me back on my tit if you want." They laugh. I'm add, "But for real guys, I don't get it. Why is it a big deal to touch a tit and not an arm? It's all human meat. Isn't it?"

They're like "Yeah...but..."

I'm like "Yeah but...let's dance Bachata!"

I start dancing with the Latina again. The vibe is good. I ask Julia, "Can I dance close with her?"

Julia's like, "Yeah."

I say, "Isn't this funny, we don't even ask her for her opinion, she's like our object!"

Julia's like, "Yeah, she's our object."

I ask, "But she's an object we're going to treat well and pleasure, right?"

Julia says, "Yeah, of course."

Meanwhile, the Latina says, "You guys can't do this!"

I'm like, "So Julia, if I wanted to kiss her, and you said it was ok, I could kiss her?"

Julia says, "Yeah, all you need is my permission."

I tell her, "Good, I'll ask after, I don't want to kiss her yet!"

Then I invite Julia to come dance with us Big Mac style. I tell Julia that HBLatina is going to be the meat patty and we are the buns. We dance and I tell Julia to kiss HBLatina's neck because I felt like she was turned on. As she begins kissing her neck. I notice her moaning a little bit, and I begin kissing her lips a little. She reciprocates. Such a dirty fucking kisser, bites and uses lotsa tongue. Women are such horny little creatures. We have no idea.

With one hand I undo Julia's bra, and with the other, HBLatina's. Their bras fall off and they're like "OMG, you're good! What the fuck? You did both at once?" Then they pull back and they're like, "Ok, we're not going any further."

I'm like, "I want you guys to be happy and comfortable. We can stop at any point. After all, this is only our first date." They laugh. I tell HBLatina, "From now on, you might have a boyfriend (me) and a girlfriend (Julia) so we have to take things slowly!"

Also, just as a reminder, on many occasions, whenever I felt that one of them wasn't comfortable, I would always reiterate with, "Look, let's go slower if you guys aren't comfortable. I want all 3 of us to have pleasure. Not only one person. Not 2. All 3 of us. This is the triangle of love!" Honestly, with this mindset, it's so much more beautiful than boozing bitches up and hoping for something to happen. Turn it into a game.

At some point I even suggested a threeway kiss and threeway smoke-sharing. The whole thing turned into an intense threeway make out session, and I stopped the whole thing with, "God, it's so weird to kiss 2 people at the same time, it's as though I'm kissing an alien or some shit. Both sides of your lips being kissed at once is such a different sensation!" We were laughing and having a good time. It's all just a fun game.

Julia said she was on her period and they kept saying, "This wasn't planned." I'm like, "I know. It just happened that we all felt comfortable together. I rarely get along with my girls' friends because usually they're too different. But you, HBLatina, you're as sweet and as pretty and apparently as crazy as Julia." They're like, "Yeah, we're both crazy."

At this point, I knew direct sexual escalation wouldn't work. So I told Julia to get close to me and said, "Listen, there's no rush for anything, I know you know that. Let's just give your friend a little massage." She's like, "Sure." We throw HBLatina on the bed and begin caressing her, touching her, gently massaging her. I tell Julia, "Why don't you gently kiss her?" As Julia begins to kiss her, I begin kissing her, too. Julia's kissing her lips, I start kissing her neck. HBLatina's really getting turned on.

I take Julia's hand and lead it to HBLatina's pussy, from above the panties. We both begin rubbing her pussy and kissing her. I can only imagine how much pleasure she was having. Eventually, Julia ends up on top of me rubbing up against me (with her panties on, of course). They eventually change positions and I ask Julia to put me in her mouth. She does. Then I begin fucking the other one. Before this happened, HBLatina looked at me and said "You're a pretty lucky guy, you know that?"

I say, "What makes you think you guys aren't lucky girls?" HBLatina tells me, "You know this is every guy's dream?"

I answer, "Do you really think every guy would take the time to make you feel comfortable so that you feel as much pleasure as he does?"

They're like, "No, you're right."

Test passed.

After that, I tell them we're going to play a game. I will close my eyes and try to guess who's kissing me and licking me down there. We begin playing the game and they're really into it. I cheat, because frankly they both give amazing head.

The only difference is Julia spits on it once in awhile because she knows I love it when she's dirty. Eventually, I stand up and they both start having fun with it. Women are crazy. Seriously. I tell them to start kissing. It was exactly like in a porn movie. They make out, one sucks your dick, the other your balls. It's a pretty insane feeling. It's worth all the hard work I put in these past 3-4 years. HBLatina didn't want to swallow, so the pleasure was all Julia's lol.

Anyway, after I got all my pleasure, I thought to myself "These girls are fucking amazing, the last thing I need is buyer's remorse." So I wait until all the heat cools down. As they're getting ready to leave, because it was getting late, I ask Julia, "Do you think your friend is comfortable with all this, it being her first time and all?" Julia didn't seem too sure. So I take them both to my bed, lay down with each of them by my side and explain everything again.

"Guys, I understand this wasn't planned. And the last thing I expected was for this to happen as well. But I want both of you to feel comfortable about this, and be assured that what happened here tonight is staying between the three of us. Society might say this is bad, but I think you guys are great, open-minded girls. HBLatina, I'm glad you're as sweet and as beautiful as your friend Julia. I want both of you to know that I really respect you, and what we shared tonight and hopefully will share again is just an expression of how comfortable we feel together. Even if for one moment, if one of you feels guilty about this, don't. We're actually mature enough to please ourselves rather than society. We shared this because we're generous enough to give each other pleasure. No one can judge us for that."

I then proceeded to tell HBLatina, "Next time, it's going to be for Julia, we're really going to bring her to heaven. Ok?" HBLatina's like, "Yeah! She's my babygirl."

Anyway, I bring Julia home and then bring the other one home. I kiss both of them on the lips when I drop each of them off. It's funny because they both kind of feel like girlfriends. The whole thing was very Vicky Cristina Barcelona style, if you know what I'm saying.

My only worries and concerns are to make it clear to Julia that she's my girl and the other one is just her best friend that I will treat with respect. I don't want to cause jealousy between them or ruin their friendship. In public, Julia is my girl and the other is just our friend. In private, they're both my girls but Julia's my primary and I have to explain this to both so that they understand this early on. Unless, of course, Julia wants something else.

Anyway, they just texted me and want to hang out again tonight. I guess I'll just hang out but do nothing sexual. I guess Julia's still on her period. Better to wait and make them comfortable. The sex will be so much better next time.

I hope this was detailed enough for those of you who want to share something like this. I promise all of you, if you do it right, it's like the eighth wonder of the world.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR GIRL WANT TO HAVE THREESOMES

By Maverick

0. Don't Dump It On Her Too Early

Do not focus on the topic of threesomes too early in the relationship, and if it comes up, make sure you don't spend much more time on it than on other topics. Unless, of course, she's already a fun girl, in which case you're one lucky SOB.

The pieces that you see below should be used over time, and definitely not in a single conversation.

When she asks you, "Have you ever had a threesome?" feel free to steal from Mr. Big and say, "Hasn't everyone?" Your girl probably hasn't.

1. The 1 Wrong Way (And 2 Right Ways) To Have A Threesome

When the topic comes up, explain to her that there are 3 kinds of threesomes. One that usually doesn't end well for the relationship, and two that can be a lot of fun for everyone, and also feel emotionally right.

1. Sometimes, when a girl is trying to rescue a relationship that is falling apart, she'll try to arrange a threesome, when they have never had one. Bad idea. This way, the process of relationship break-down will be accelerated. This is not the way to do it.
2. When things "just happen" between a guy and two girls, neither of whom has a long-term desire for the guy. This is just for fun, healthy and great for everyone. Plain and simple.
3. When one girl really likes the guy (you look your gal straight in the eye as you say that), and the other is just there for the ride. Now, the important thing is to know who's who, so that the special girl knows that this is something to enrich their relationship (which is already very good), and to make sure the other girl understands there will be no 1-on-1 with the guy at a later time.

This way, you're also showing her that you know what you're talking about. This makes her understand that it may be important to you, and also that you have lived through it, so she'll be more comfortable.

2. Make Her Understand She'll Be Even More Special If..

At this point you may hear some objections from your girl. This is great. The ones I hear most often are:

"But it is very difficult to find a girl who would agree to such a setup."

"But there's so few girls who would do it.."

That's great, because then you say:

"Perhaps, but think of how much more special a girl like that would be, if she had allowed them to share such an incredible experience."

3. The Emotional Bond vs. Sex, And What A Threesome Means

You also need to make her understand what a threesome means to you. In particular, what it means emotionally. It can go something like this:

"I have several friends who claim it is possible to have a deep relationship with more than one woman. It may work for them, but I have found out that it is not true for me. Yes, I am a man, and by my nature I am designed to have sex with many women. But I find that there is a finite amount of emotional bonding energy that I have, and I always end up getting emotionally involved with just one girl (and again, you look her in the eyes)."

4. Tell Her This Is The Thing That Is Important To You

(This may depend on your own tastes, but the below is true of me.)

"You see, of all the kinks that we have talked about, I think there are many that are quite a turn on, at least to talk about. But there's one that really is my favorite: I really do enjoy having threesomes. Especially when they are shared with someone I really like."

5. Do Not Ask Her To Do It With Her (Best) Friend

If she understood everything you said and she really wants to win you over, then the topic will come up again. When it does...here's what you do.

Some girls will be more comfortable with picking up a stranger at a bar. Suggest that, and see how she reacts. If she's socially savvy and comfortable in bars/clubs, this is likely to be her preferred option.

Some girls would prefer someone from your extended social circle. Perhaps someone who has been your friend with benefits. This is because your girl may be afraid of catching a disease from a stranger, for one.

Just make sure to explain why it will never work between you and that friend.

For example:

"You see, I have a hardcore lesbian friend who calls me a few times a year. Physically she's great, but since she's a lesbian, there's no chemistry between us."

Personally, I prefer pre-planned threesomes, where you orchestrate everything and you let each girl know a bit about the other. (Emailing pics works, no need to make them add each other on Facebook.)

6. Talk Her Over The Experience, In Detail, And Negotiate

So far, you've shown your girl that you've had this experience before, that it will be beneficial to your relationship (you bet it will be!), and that you'll make sure it all will happen and end well. She'll be afraid, especially if it's her first time. Put her at ease.

Walk her over the experience. Tell her what your fantasies are and what you'd like to definitely try, and what the boundaries are.

Just make sure she'll let you fuck the other girl. If she's resisting, then either she's just not a viable candidate, or you haven't provided enough motivation for her, or haven't put her mind at ease. Sell her on the experience.

Instead of "no sex" with the other girl, you can agree to a more emotionally important rule, like "no kissing" with the other girl. But allow your girl to make out with the other.

Your girl may feel less threatened if you pick up the other girl at a bar/club and you never exchange any contact information. If that's what it takes to have a threesome, no problem. Agree to it.

Get information on any bi-sexual experiences your girl might have had. Has she ever kissed a girl at a club? Has she grabbed a girl's boobs? Does she have an appreciation for the beauty of feminine body?

Your girl can be straight and that's still fine. At a minimum, she only needs to have sex with you, and possibly let the other girl play with her. Tell her that if that's what she's okay with, no problem.

Tell her "The game plan is we have a drink, we chill, we talk, if nothing more happens, I'll just fuck you really hard that night ;)"

Promise her everything will be all right. After all, the first rule of hanging out with you (or at your place) is: "Everybody has to have a great time. Nothing else is allowed."

7. Meet At Your Place, Let Them Get Comfortable

I always meet with girls at my place, in general, whenever possible. That is assuming you're not doing the "bar pick up" version.

If your girl is really into it and in her mind she has already decided to do it, leaving the apartment to go somewhere else is counterproductive. If you do have to go out, I usually pick a place with a wide couch (make a reservation!) where all 3 of you can fit, and where you smoke shisha. This way we can drink and pass smoke mouth-to-mouth.

Important: Do not stand in the way of their getting to know each other. Girls will interact differently and get comfortable much faster when you are not around. After 15 minutes or so, have an excuse to leave for at least 20 minutes. At my place, I go grab another bottle of wine at corner store. At a shisha place you can go to the bathroom, then get some fresh air and call a friend or two while outside.

Back at your place (if you're not there all that time), provide lots of booze. Something each of them likes, that goes down easily and is strong. My favourite mix is: Baileys, vodka, and coconut liquor in a martini glass. Cherry and whip cream optional. But if your other girl is a lesbian she may prefer beer. Don't drink as much yourself!

8. Switch Gears To Physical And Sexual

I usually do it sometime soon after I came back from the 20 minutes away. The girls are comfortable now and it's time to start the party. It can be as easy as grinning at them uncontrollably, and then when they ask why, telling them you took Viagra or Cialis (whether this is true does not matter).

Or you can go physical. When the "other" girl leaves for the bathroom (and they always do) you get hot and heavy with the primary one. The other girl will come back and see you making out. Invite her in. You can start touching her while making out with your primary. The point is you're creating a link (through you).

Escalate from there, e.g. put your girl's hand on other girl's boobs (it may help if your own hand has been there just moments ago). It's great if the girls kiss, but not necessary.

Then escalate more and more, and have lots and lots of fun!

9. Lead The Experience

If the girls are into each other, you can usually let them play for awhile and just watch. Most of the time they will want you to be there, though. You've rehearsed with your girl what you want to do, so you should have a plan in your head. Use it.

Girls will be looking to you to provide the direction. Move them around, suggest to them what to do. It is OK to ask them questions about whether they'd be OK with something or not if you're not sure. At this point the games have begun, the sails are up. You as the captain need to make sure sailing is both interesting and smooth for everybody.

10. Be Gentle After

After sex like this, girls feel like they have "given." And they did. Reward them. Yes, you need to focus on your primary girl, but you don't want the other girl to feel cheap. You can whisper to your primary "Julie shared so much with us today, I just want to make sure she's feeling great too, is that OK with you?"

Then go and hug or cuddle with the other girl. Take your primary's hand and kiss it while doing so. You're there now to emotionally soothe and calm down both of them. Make sure it's a joined experience, and nobody feels left out.

By the way, do you want the other girl to stay? (It's kind of cool if you have a large bed!) Is your primary girl OK with that? What did she say when you were planning? Even if she said, "No, she can't stay" before, she may change her mind afterward. Ask again, and be tactful.

Otherwise get the other girl a cab, make sure to extend all allowed pleasantries, emphasize how a unique experience it was, make sure she leaves with good memories. Call her the next day, if your deal with your main girl allowed that.

Your girl will likely want to see you again, soon after the experience. Perhaps she'd like to spend another night at your place in a row (if that's not usual for your stage of relationship), or maybe she'll want to come by 3 days later instead of the usual weekly visit. The fact is, she'll want to reaffirm that you're still hers, so let her.

The next time around ask her about the parts she liked best, the parts that were surprising. And in the sack...give her a great ride. She's a great gal, she deserves it!

THREESOME, PART 1

By Milatchku

Hey guys, well its been a while since I posted one of my long ass reports. It's mainly because I've been spending time with my girlfriend of 1 year (whom Sanik, Brother Kermit, Cliff and Doc all think is a doll after having met her...) and I have been working on getting her into threesomes...and let's just say that I ended up doing things "the hard way."

Ok so where to start? You see, I could simply post the actual pick up itself (which wasn't too difficult in retrospect) or I could also throw in the work I did in order to get my girl comfortable with the idea of sharing another woman (which was the hard part.) A lot of us know that it's best to let a girl know early on in the pick up that threesomes are a part of your reality. If you tell her later in the relationship, say a few months in, then it can be a problem.

So as a point of reference, let me give you the resources I used. Honestly, it seems that there really just isn't anything else out there besides these products that address this highly desirable scenario:

1. Rick H Interview: In retrospect, I realized that most the stuff he talks about is very advanced, but since most people in the community refer to it, then you should still look at it.

2. Brad P Interview with Buzzy: Some good ideas.
3. Cliff's List DVDs: Part 1 with David Shade alone, Part 2 with the Threesome Panel.
4. David Shade's Threesome Videos: You get a great overview of the whole process.
5. Mystery Method Interviews with Talk on threesomes.

This stuff will give you the framework which I worked from. Now do you need all this to make it happen? No, probably not. But I wanted to see different perspectives. You should have more than enough to work with from the info given in those videos so that I don't need to point out the process myself. Therefore, I will just point out my own experiences.

First off, since I brought up the topic of threesomes after a few months rather than after a few weeks, I faced some serious resistance tactics that I arbitrarily separated into 3 categories. These were tactics that I have had to deal with in the past from girlfriends (including the one I'm with now.)

Now most of these problems I'll discuss can be circumvented if you open the girl up early on in the relationship, say within the first few weeks. However many of us are already in long term relationships and wanna take it to the next level.

1. Power Tripping Tests

She's gonna test your congruence. My best advice here is to call out the behavior:

A. Entrapment

She may make comments knowing that it will cause your mind to lead into the thought of a threesome, but then when you mention it she will accuse you of having a one track mind. My best advice is to not apologize for your desires and instead make it clear that if she doesn't understand the way you live then you will move on...and mean it! I had to break up with my girl twice because she wasn't following the way I wanted to live my life.

B. Carrot Dangling

The one is quite common. A lot of guys say, "Yeah, this girl I met says she wants to do a threesome, the operative word here is (being) 'says,' but she always finds an excuse to back out." Best advice here is to just follow through as mentioned and call her on it. Hell, I even like to carrot dangle things in front of her (e.g. If we share a threesome, then I feel it will take our relationship to the next level).

C. Cock Teasing

She acts like she's all into someone and it gets you all hot. Just call it out.

2. Clauses

These are of the format "I'd do it only if..." and she actually means it, rather than just carrot dangling:

A. She needs a connection with the girl

Teach her that she can connect with anyone.

B. She needs to feel turned on/sexy/drunk:

Teach her that when it's on, it's on, as she has probably experienced in the past.

C. She needs to feel that she's the number one

This is real. Address her emotional needs and fear of abandonment and demonstrate to her that she is special and unique to you. Brother Kermit has these concepts down to a science.

3. The Actual Pick Up Itself

Self explanatory.

A. She thinks she's picking up a guy

She figures that if she just throws herself on the chick, then the chick will want her like a guy would. She may push too hard (like she did to one chick on my birthday and ended up turning the target off.) You're gonna have to teach her that picking up a girl is different.

B. She may sabotage the pick up in session

Thanks to Drake for pointing this out! She may give off subtle cues to scare your target away. Often these are done subconsciously. Make sure to point them out to her nicely.

C. She needs to be gradually eased into it

If she has never done this before then you will have to work her into this. Last summer I had sex with my girl with another couple having sex in the same room. My girl made out with the other chick and grabbed her boobs but nothing else, nor did I or the other guy participate.

Then in the winter time, my girl and I shared a hot tub with 3 other chicks we met through our social circle. All the girls were topless (there is a photo of me in the hot tub with the 4 topless chicks, and she still makes fun of the stupid smile I had on my face the day after.) My girl fooled around with one of the girls, as did I, but nothing else. So now she is getting more into the whole process.

Finally, we began to actually go out and pick up girls....

Now, for the pick up. Firstly, both you and your girl should have the mindset of "indifference to the outcome." You'll both have fun together, but if you don't meet anyone, then no big deal.

So me and my girl are at the club doing our thing. Yes, doing our thing. You see, there is something very attractive about a good looking couple that displays good chemistry. Many women wish they could be in such relationships. Now if a girl is single and she sees that...then she could very well wanna piece of the action.

So as we are doing our thing, I notice a very sensual looking girl (lets call her HBSensualgirl) come to stand at the bar next to us, waiting to order a drink. Something inside me said that she is standing next to us in order to be opened. So I remarked about this to my girl.

So what does my girl do? She makes eye contact with HBSensualgirl and walks off to the bathroom. Sure enough, the target follows her into the bathroom. Once in the bathroom, my girlfriend compliments her on her outfit and follows up with some small talk. My girl comes back to me and tells me what transpired, which actually impressed me, because the eye contact then going to another part of the club to see if the person will follow was a tactic I never heard of before.

So as I'm looking off onto the dance floor for our target, I notice some other couple has opened up HBSensualgirl! Guess we aren't the only couple looking for a ménage that night...and I'm like damn...how do I get this girl away from that couple in a smooth fashion, especially since I haven't officially spoken to her yet? But then I remember a post Tragic Carpet Ride made about AFOGs stealing their friends from him as he's dancing. So what do I do? I say to my girlfriend, "Sweetie pie, go over there and take that girl by the hand, pull her away from that couple, and bring her over here." And God damn, that shit worked!

Now I'm introduced to the target and began to run my game. Yes, you should still run solid game on the target with your girl next to you. I don't remember word for word everything I said, but I will point out some important things that popped up. One thing was for sure, it is clear as to what the intention was from the get go. Being able to screen out women properly early on can go a long way in saving you time.

I ask her if she has any tattoos, and also have my girlfriend show her tattoos. She tells me her tattoo is in a very erotic location. I ask how people like it. She says they like it a lot. I then ask how women like it. She gives me a surprised look but still answers. I am setting the pace now...

I then comment on how I like to see commonalities between people. That's when the girl throws out "Oh, so you are a voyeur," as in I like to watch. Now this is a test. She is basically hinting that perhaps she'll just fool around with my girlfriend with me just watching. This kind of thing is actually quite common, as it's happened to me in the past. Basically, she wants to see if she can use me to finance her activities. That's when I respond with, "Yes I like to watch, but I love to experience even more...my girl and I are a package deal..." She laughs and asks what in particular. That's when I say, "Anything you can imagine..." She laughs again and tells me that I'm very ambitious. And I respond affirmatively. That's when my girlfriend throws that ambition is a very attractive trait. My girl and I are a team! I also do some palm reading which was in good fun.

We are bantering when then I say, "You know what? You rock!" She laughs. Then I look over to my girlfriend and say, "Isn't she really cool?" My girlfriend nods in agreement. Now that she has started to feel qualified, I offer the target a hug. She complies. I then say, "My girlfriend would also like a hug." She smiles and hugs my girl.

Now my girlfriend tells me in my ear, "We should go off now and mingle within the crowd ourselves and leave HBSensualgirl a bit. This will show her that we are valuable and that she won't wanna lose us..." What is my girlfriend suggesting here? A takeaway! After value is conveyed and you get your target on an emotional high, you leave for a bit so she feels a bit of that feeling of loss. Damn, seems like women do know a thing or two about game!

A short while later, we reinitiate conversation with her. At this point, I kino both her and my girl at the same time, as told to me by AtoZ, and I make sure to escalate that kino between me and the girls and between the girls themselves. While he describes some spiritual energy reasons behind this which my mind cannot comprehend, whatever he taught me worked beautifully! As you can see, the tone is already set at the venue. Then after some more banter, I offer another hug, to which she complies...that's when I slide my lips across her cheek and plant a kiss on her lips. She looks a bit surprised. I then say, "My girlfriend would also like a kiss..." She then gets this big smile and kisses my girl.

By now it's obvious what's going to happen if we go home with this girl. There is still no substitute for solid game! Yes, demonstrating good chemistry between me and my girl will build attraction. A chick that my girl and I Facebook closed at a club kept telling us what a great looking couple we are (but we couldn't follow through with her for a day 2). And while your girlfriend will do a lot of the work to build comfort, you still have to have solid game and frame control (she was testy once we got home) in order to keep things rolling smoothly.

Therein lies a problem...I have found that when you've been in a committed LTR for a few months, your game can get rusty and so it's very important that you still lead a life where you can still banter with other women when you aren't with your girlfriend.

Throughout the night there are times when I leave my girl alone with HBSensualgirl in order for them to build comfort and rapport. There were times when I am alone with the target in which I have to make clear who was calling the shots. She is very testy, and things like this can easily mess with your state and turn you off from performing...especially when it's about to be something as exciting as a threesome.

Something that seems to be agreed on is that for something like this to happen, you usually need to make it happen the night you meet your target. Looking to make this happen on a day 2 often doesn't work out. So you have to work your game out in order to make this happen the same night.

The night is about to come to an end, so I offer to give HBSensualgirl a ride home...because I'm such a nice guy. But that's when the couple from earlier on come to talk to me! After a few minutes that couple invite me and my girl over to their place with HBSensualgirl. Am I gonna let some unknown couple, whom I don't trust, come out of nowhere to possibly jack the target away from me or something? Nope, and I don't think I'm into swinging yet...but that's a whole other ball game. I just thank them kindly and take both girls by the hand out of the club. HBSensualgirl comments again how I'm a very ambitious man.

I tell both girls to sit in the back of my car and get to know each other better. In the car, to my surprise, the girls are mostly, if not totally just talking and getting to know one another rather than making out. At home, HBSensualgirl asks us if this is our first time doing this thing, how long we have been together and so on. We say it is our first time going this far despite being together for a whole year, and that it's taken us awhile to find a girl that my girl can connect with. HBSensualgirl is surprised, imagining we had done this before.

All the while, there is kino and massaging going on between the girls which leads to sexual escalation. And, to our luck, it seems that this girl is quite experienced fooling around with other women. Like I said, screen the women well, and things will work out well, especially since it turned into a very positive first experience for my girl, which, in turn, will lead to more experiences like this in the future. Booyeah!

As for turning this girl into a secondary, my girlfriend made the request that any chicks we pick up together will only be a one time thing. No phone numbers, emails, Facebooking, etc. If we decide to do this again, it will be with a new woman. So I plan to respect her on this.

IMPOSSIBLE WITHOUT FIRST CROSSING YOUR ARMS

By Swede

Last summer I picked up not one but two girls, and this is how it went:

I'm visiting a small town, renowned for its parties during the summer season. Traveling on my own, as is my preference, I approach two girls while finding a spot at the beach. Turns out they're sisters, and although I'm not quite sure why, on that day I just can't make up my mind as to which girl I like better.

With no wingman to occupy the one I will not choose, I stay in neutral and we chat the afternoon away, listening to a beach concert, then meeting up again in the evening. Being locals, they aren't as outgoing as I am (a stranger in a new city), and in the evening after some barhopping, I follow them home, say goodnight, and am seriously thinking of calling it a night. Socially, my spirits are high. Sexually, they're dampened from having to share my graces between two women vying to get my attention all day, making sure that one isn't feeling left out on account of the other.

Simply put, I've had a day's practice of starting and stopping my needs.

On a whim, I go to Main Street instead of walking the slight distance to where I am residing. It's about one o'clock in the morning on a summer weekday in an otherwise deserted town. Turning onto Main Street, I realize I'm completely alone, apart from the two girls coming up the street behind me. Since it's nice to see someone, I sporadically comment on this: "Geez, this place is empty, are you the only ones out here?" I don't stop for this, but simply start walking backwards, making it an off comment, which it is.

We chat a bit. They're headed for one place and I tell them I'm heading for the other (small town, remember?). I ask them if it's any good, and they tell me they're also traveling and are new to the town, but it's OK. Coming up on their chosen venue, I tell them I'm coming with them, indicating that I have nothing better to do so I might as well. Like it's nothing much, which it isn't to me in the frame of mood I'm in by this time.

Having slowed down, I'm the last to come up on the place. The blonde, who I can tell is the leader, sits down on a bench outside next to her friend and lights up. She pats her hand on the seat next to her but my momentum has already taken me past her, and since I would have to double back, I keep my cool and instead take the end seat beside the brunette girl.

A funny thing happens then, which I immediately spin to my advantage. The guy guarding the door, a bald, fattening, but jovial guy in his forties, sees the exchange, looks at me, and theatrically slaps a hand to his forehead, indicating that I am one stupid fuck. The girls of course see this, and they also see how I handle it. I turn it around on him, spreading my arms to the sky and rolling my eyes ... suggesting that he is the idiot, and stupid enough to boot that I couldn't explain it to him in a million years. All in good fun, of course.

The girls reappraise me and share their cigarette. We talk a bit about fashion (I'm wearing a slim leather jacket over a very thin T-shirt that leaves the upper part of my chest exposed, along with tucked in jeans in black converse shoes. It's hip, relaxed and very metrosexual, which lets girls know I speak girl-speak).

We enter and walk up to the bar, where the rest of their girlfriends are waiting. Sharing my graces equally, though lingering a bit on "my" girls, I'm immediately taken in. I get treated to a shot of tequila by the group, being "cleared" by having entered with their friends.

By this time it is firmly established that I am the prize, and the rest of the bar is starting to notice (some drunk guy barges in and angrily inquires of the girls as to what makes me so fucking special, since he's probably been trying to get in with them all night. Along with the guy at the door, he's hugely helpful).

The girls tell me that they're bisexual (the blonde) and bi-curious (the brunette). I tell them I think it's cool, staying in my hard-earned neutral mode while doing so. When they tell me they want to share me I shrug it off, indicating they should chill, and not move so fast or they'll spoil the suspense. Still conveying amusement and interest, I give them the "oh not again" reaction. And then I don't move on it, to prove that I don't have to. We talk, flirt, have a drink. They go to the ladies room, probably to discuss tactics, and I wait in the bar, suddenly approached by guys who want me to tell them how I do it. The girls re-emerge, and we sit and do a bit of light kino.

I'm touching both their hands at different moments, making sure they're touching each others', showing them I'm drawing up the contract but haven't signed yet.

We hit the dance floor with the rest of the group, and at first I stay innocuous, solo-dancing just because life is good and I love living it out on the dance floor. I'm not touching them, just having fun, alternating dancing opposite them or their friends. Then I make sure they're dancing with each other, rubbing against each other while I watch. I let the blonde rub up against my back but stay in neutral. Then I close with the brunette.

The dance floor is suddenly crowded with spectators, mostly dudes, some of whom are starting to get aggressively envious. When a guy with a scarcity mentality tries to pick a fight I stay in the mind frame that these girls are doing this to me, I'm not doing it to them, and I calmly let him in on the fact that they are the ones that are together and if they want to dance with me I'm not stupid enough to say no. He has no ready reply to this. Then I return to the girls and start making out with them, at first being the center of attention but soon making sure that graces are divided three ways, with me the least important party.

Escalating almost to a degree of foreplay, we're running hands over bodies as we sinuously spin on the floor, closing to embrace, playfully evading, light kisses alternating with deep kissing, a hand brushing a breast, a hand brushing my cock, all to the beat to the music. We continue this, partying the night away. Some Australian guys from the girls' hostel want in on the action but are brushed off.

Just before closing time, we slip away. On exiting, I make sure to put my arms around their waists and give my thanks to my helper at the door.

We stroll down the streets, talking, retrieving a bottle of wine that the girls had previously hidden in a bush. They're throwing me some shit-tests, probing to know if I'm gonna be able to handle it. I tell them truthfully that I have been in this kind of situation before (omitting that it included only making out). I deliberately stay vague, trying to not ascribe value to what is about to happen. I keep my cool, my indifference indicating that it is no different than going home with one girl. This also conveys to them that I don't kiss and tell. I do specifically not try to validate myself, since I instinctively know that to reach for it is to fail; I have to have already reached it.

We get to the Hostel, and as a miracle, all is quiet. On agreement, we enter the girls' dressing room. Barring the door, we get undressed and hit the shower. We start kissing. I hold my hands on the small of their backs and press them close. Three-way kissing proves to be quite fun. The blonde is the slighter of form, small, perky, you name it. The brunette is a little bit more voluptuous ... they complement each other nicely.

I find out that touching two girls between their legs as they are both trying to kiss you, is impossible without first crossing your arms. Great trick. Another discovery I make is the importance of equal sharing, and the need to give them space; to be able to back off and let them play by themselves at times. I let the blonde be the dominant one among us, as the brunette finds comfort in this. An attempt to retain the initiative on my part is bad idea; the only reason they are letting me in on this is because I'm in it on their terms.

Doing it in the shower means doing it standing up; I alternate between them doggy-style, managing to change condoms in between. The steam forces us to open up the windows, giving the girls the window sill to lean on, leaving them hanging halfway out.

When we are done, we slip into their room, remove our towels, and snuggle down between the covers, all still naked. After having said hello to the roommates who are still awake, and the Australians who are for some reason finishing up their party in this room in particular, the girls shoo them off. We chat for a while, and when the blonde drifts off to sleep, the brunette and I finish up.

An Aussie walks in the next morning, a big lumbering guy, and timidly tells me I'm his god. Sweeter still is the dual embrace as I lay there on my back thinking that life is good.

CALL ME IN A WEEK AND WE CAN ALL DO THIS

By L-I-Te

Last Friday I decided to go out with my regular (HBArgentina) and try to push some boundaries. I have previously mentioned that I am interested in threesomes and she seems down for that. All girls always mention they are down for that, mostly showing that they are wild and want to keep up with your sex drive, but once you get into a deeper emotional connection...how many of them can actually handle it?

As a test, I've done some flirting with other girls while HBArgentina was present, with mixed results: some positive reactions (interest in how to pick up girls, interest in the interaction, etc.) and other negative reactions (jealousy, insecurity, etc.) So I wanted to push the limits, obtain the most intense reactions from her and establish once and for all a permanent threesome frame.

So Friday I get invited to two house parties. I arrive first, and it gives me about an hour to wait for my girl. The party is going a bit slowly, but a pair of HBs are sitting in a corner and most guys are too intimidated by them to approach. Like they say in my country, “Maricon quien!” so I approach them. HBRussia and HBSalsa.

Now HBSalsa and I had met outside of the party while going in, but I didn’t pay much attention to her as I wanted to warm up a bit before going for her.

I open HBRussia with a situational, and start setting up some rapid, fast kino and push-pull with her. She is feeling it, but somehow the conversation fizzles out. However, clearly this has had an effect on HBSalsa, as she is interested. So she approaches me, asking my name and where I’m from, and tries to get me to buy her a drink. I reframe the whole thing, turn it back at her, make her jump those exact same hoops while establishing some sexual kino and not giving an inch of information.

The bait is working and she is loving it. Things are going pretty well, and this is when HBAgentina arrives. I decide to keep doing my thing as if she isn’t there, # close HBSalsa and set up some more intense flirting. She asks me multiple times to stay, but this isn’t my plan for the night.

As for HBAgentina, well, she doesn’t take it too well at all.

Okay, so now I’ve pushed the most negative reaction possible. This has triggered jealousy...not exactly a jealousy plotline, but she feels her spot as a primary has been neglected completely. After some major drama here and there, we decide to restart the night and head over to the next party.

This is where it gets interesting.

We split up, she does her thing (she is a very social girl) and I do mine. Basically, we are all over the room. Guys are into her and girls are checking me out, but somehow we always establish eye contact, come back to see each other, take a picture, make out, etc.

I see this cute, petite girl, HBThree, so I approach her and start flirting with her in a manner very similar to what I did at the party with HBSalsa. After awhile I decide to break rapport and see HBAgentina. I'm very interested in setting up a threesome with both. However, now things have changed. Although in the beginning she seemed a bit jealous, now she starts to let go.

I continue flirting with HBThree and now HBAgentina is starting to feel it. HBThree knows that I have a longstanding relationship with HBAgentina and that she is my main girl. However, she is very intrigued by me. She finds HBAgentina very attractive and she also just wants to have some fun.

Later on in the night I sit them both down together in a swing. They start making conversation and I am amping up their conversation with a sexual frame. I start making out with HBArgentina, but keep the sexual tension up with HBThree. Later I start making out with HBThree and going back and forth, take some pictures of both of them together and let them have their fun, and eventually it all concludes in a hot three way kiss.

Even though I was focusing the same amount of energy and time on HBThree as I did on HBSalsa, the same style of pickup, the difference was that now I gave the importance to my main girl, HBArgentina. This in turn made HBThree more attracted, as she wanted to take part in this adventure, and she loved the way I was treating her. She couldn't understand how it all worked, but she could see our intense passion, so she was definitely intrigued. Even though HBThree initially mentioned, "I'm not interested in anything other than a serious relationship," "I've never been in a threesome," and "This is very unlike me," it all seemed very natural and it was led with the same energy.

Sadly, this is not a Threesome LR, as HBThree was on her period and she didn't feel comfortable having sex while on it. She mentioned more than twice: "Call me in a week and we can all do this."

After building up some intense rapport with HBThree and some heavy making out with her, logistics kick in and she leaves. As for HBArgentina, she was working at her own pace and now any fear of jealousy or abandonment were gone as she understood her place. No worries. I number close HBThree and make some light plans for the week. I had foreseen this coming, so it was not a surprise to any of us. As for me, I take HBArgentina home to continue with some amazing sex.

Here are a couple of important things to have in mind:

1. With HBArgentina, I'm trying to establish permanent threesomes and polyamorous relationships...even though it's her first polyamorous relationship (and mine too), everything has steps. One, the girl has to be bi-curious and be very comfortable with her sexuality. Two, you have to be very comfortable with her sexuality and be able to handle her also. These two facts helped out a lot. A bonus is that she's interested in pick up and she is comfortable with the idea of open relationships.
2. In this case, there was one dominant girl (HBArgentina) and one submissive girl (HBThree) and this played out to my advantage. The fact that there was one dominant girl helped out, because HBThree didn't feel like she was being led only by me, but she was also being desired and led by HBArgentina. While I wasn't establishing rapport with HBThree, HBArgentina was establishing rapport with her, so the interaction was always leading into a threesome frame. Not sure what would happen if there were two dominant girls or if there were two submissive girls (anybody with more experience care to give some input?)

3. As I read once in a threesome LR, you have to be the one leading the interaction the whole time, and if the other girl is trying to take the lead, always establish yourself as the dominant one in the interaction. I let go a bit to give HBArgentina some sense of control, but it was always me establishing the frame. I led them into them kissing each other, I led them into a three way kiss, and led the conversation with HBThree into a threesome. I also gave HBThree a chance to lead, but she was very shy and didn't know how to handle it, so a little push always helped.
4. HBThree was led into an adventure where we were the stars and she was being taken along for the ride. With HBThree, even though she was never into a threesome or a three way kiss, the idea was to handle the threesome as an adventure and not as something out of a porn movie. HBThree is a very sweet girl and very shy, so in this case a more emotional approach was taken. It's important to build some rapport with her and establish a connection. Again, the idea is not that she is a toy. No girl likes to feel used like a toy, but more that she is coming along for the ride with us.
5. If you have a main, and you want to establish permanent threesomes with her, she needs to know that she is the main and that the other girl is a person coming on an adventure with us. Trust is the golden rule here! No trust, no go.

Anyways, I'm looking forward for more adventures with HBArgentina, as she is very down with many ideas (proposing we pick up girls the night after). And as for HBThree...so far she hasn't flaked, so we will see where it all goes. As for HBSalsa, she is very interested, so only time will tell...

THREESOME, PART 2

By Milachku

Work here in NYC has been very busy. I average 65 hours a week or more, working 6 days a week. So for the last 6 weeks I haven't been able to go out much at all, and when I do, I have very low energy. This has caused some strain on my relationship with my girl (on top of other issues) so something like what you will read about in this report was very good for my morale...amongst other things. But working hard like this for the last little while made me feel more entitled to going out and having some fun (and getting my girl into her second threesome with me.)

Ok, to start off, my girl has been going out clubbing without me because I've been so busy at work. Last weekend she went out to a club and made contact with a promoter who is rather connected. She described him as gay-ish based on his behavior, and the fact that he works for Estee Lauder. This past weekend, he was promoting at a club for Labor Day weekend, and told her he would be able to get us past the line.

We get to the club and he greets us. I'm introduced as the boyfriend. Why do I say this? Because about a minute after meeting me, he proceeds to mack on my girl. The worst part is that he doesn't appear gay in my eyes. He's doing high fives and asking her "female advice;" i.e. he's using some community material!

Well, to mack on my girl right in front of me is rather disrespectful...and the worst part is that it seems like my girl is kinda into him. The combination of us having our troubles and this guy working in the clubbing and fashion industries (which is a DHV for my girl) has caused her to wander away. It's time to reassert myself.

How do I do that? Well, he introduces us to a female friend of his with a cute smile (whom he was also into—lets call her HBCutiesmile.) So I decide to mack on her to counter both my girl's and this guy's behavior.

So my girl and I are walking through the club, and we run into HBCutiesmile walking in the opposite direction. I tell her with a big smile to come with us, and she avidly follows – which my girlfriend notices. We get to the bar and she starts asking us what we do. My girlfriend tells her she works in fashion, and I tell her I'm a glorified bum. Then I explain how you can make a lot of money as a bum. I then follow up telling her how when I was in France a few years ago, I would see young, normally dressed, clean people begging for money on a regular basis.

HBCutiesmile is laughing all through this, while my girlfriend gives me a funny look. I then tell HBCutiesmile that my girlfriend always gives me that look when I tell people that I'm a glorified bum. This is calling out the behavior to manage the shit test.

You see, for the most of the evening, getting the threesome to happen is simply a combination of showing HBCutiesmile what a unique and special dynamic my girl and I have as means of DHVing. Most women out there could only wish to be in such a happy relationship. So if they aren't in one, then the next best thing would be to join one...even if for just one evening! I learned this from observing Doc in field on numerous occasions.

The second part of getting the threesome to happen is managing my girlfriend's constant shit testing. I do admit that I haven't been managing the relationship very well for the last little while, so my value in her eyes may have gone down. So if I'm gonna try to do something like a threesome with her again tonight, she will instinctively shit test me so see if I'm really that kinda man. I manage the shit tests mostly with the concepts I covered in my last threesome report.

Now for the mindset I have. The first thing you guys have to realise about NYC is that there are so many single women. By sheer numbers, you will always run into someone single. Many of these people are from out of town, so they are also in traveler's mode; i.e. more ready to fuck. Both these things work in your favor. And a last thing about NYC is that women here are actually less image-obsessed than people in Montreal. Women here are really out to have fun, and unlike people in Montreal, they are more open to you just chatting them up if you are in fun mode. On top of all this, I know in my mind that I'm that type of guy with whom women just want to have threesomes. Yes, I do believe this, and you should all as well. Entitlement goes a long way.

So for more specifics. I am constantly being affectionate to my girl in front of HBCutiesmile. She tells us later that we are the best couple she has ever seen. I start kinoing both women as always, just as AtoZ told me to do. The thing is that you have to gauge your primary's comfort levels. It's not so much that she will get jealous as she will be afraid of how it will look in front of the other friends we're with.

At one point, a guy comes up to both my girl and HBCutiesmile and tries to dance with them. I put my arms around both of them and pull them away. Very powerful.

So then my girl and I start getting into a deeper discussion with HBCutiesmile. She mentions how she lives with a gay guy. I then go into how gays in NYC are primitive compared to the gays in Montreal. The gays in NYC are still in that "look at us, we're gay!" mode, whereas the gays in Montreal are more laid back with the whole issue now. I then go in how my girlfriend was about to move into an apartment where her roommate would be a lesbian. HBCutiesmile tells me that I should like that. But I tell her my girlfriend and I prefer bisexual-bicurious women. HBCutiesmile says, "Oh so you guys are looking for a bisexual woman?" I tell her that I'm not planning for anything in particular, but if something happens then no big deal. I'm indifferent to the outcome, although it's always good to have a vision of the things you want in life. She agrees whole heartedly with this. She then comments on my girlfriend's perky boobs. I tell her they are real, and that she can cop a feel if she wants; in fact, I take her hand and place it on one of my girlfriend's boobs!

Now the next thing I have to handle is the promoter periodically coming around and trying to AMOG me and mack on HBCutiesmile. This mostly involves us doing alpha type gestures to one another...and I have to admit that he's pretty good at it. But at this point I have built enough attraction with HBCutiesmile that it no longer matters.

I also make sure periodically to leave my girlfriend and HBCutiesmile alone so they can build rapport together, and other times my girlfriend leaves me and HBCutiesmile alone so we can build rapport—and of course, we also build rapport together as a group. Now I don't need to go into details, but I will say this: rapport is best done by talking about things you like and that are important to you in life. Having lived an interesting life helps here, guys. If your target is into you, then she will follow your lead and bridge those commonalities.

If you wanna pattern here or use some NLP, then that helps for some women.

At this point my girlfriend sees that a threesome is inevitable, and she once again starts shit testing me. I have to remind myself about some inner game concepts, as well as the techniques I mentioned in my last threesome report, in order to manage these shit tests. Not only do I have to manage my girlfriend's mood, but I also have to keep my own mood elevated (and my dick hard) so as to not sabotage the pick up – which my girlfriend is subconsciously trying to do. Again, thanks to Drake for explaining this concept to me.

Now HBCutiesmile sees this, and when I'm alone with her while my girlfriend is in the bathroom, I tell her that my girlfriend and I have our own issues, as do all couples. Interestingly, showing this vulnerability to HBCutiesmile helps, as it shows that we are human (and therefore attainable). So after this, HBCutiesmile becomes very enthusiastic about us all hanging out together after the club. I mentioned to her earlier how enthusiasm is a very good trait to have, so she makes sure to keep my girlfriend's mood elevated for the remainder of the time in the club.

The club is closing, so we start making our way out. Outside we have a difficult time finding a cab, which irritates my girlfriend, but luckily HBCutiesmile keeps her spirits up. The promoter tries to mack on each of the girls again, but at this point I pretty much blow him out of the water. Even better is the fact that he has an idea of what's gonna happen between me and the two girls...well that's what he gets for trying to hit on my girl right in front of me.

In the cab ride home my girlfriend is a bit quiet, maybe because the cab driver isn't playing any music So I tell him to turn on the radio. Both girls laugh. I then put my arm around my girlfriend and hold HBCutiesmile's hand. More comfort building here. Actually it's kinda funny, as the topic of the latest Woody Allen film comes up – a dude in that movie also has a threesome!

Back at my place I don't waste much time, and get both the girls to do the dual induction massage on each other with me. That quickly sets the mood, and we eventually all get it on. Again, I'm touching both girls as they are making out...and to my surprise (or maybe not) it turns out that my girlfriend was very wet, more than usual...wow, after all that crabby shit testing she ends up getting extremely turned on. Guess that means I should never let shit tests affect my emotional state. Just manage them and reframe it as a means to escalate.

Before you know, it we're all over the place. One thing though is that I think it's this girl's first time with another woman, and she evidently isn't too experienced in pleasing another woman, which kinda annoys my girlfriend. I will keep this in mind and make sure to qualify our next potential threesome target about her experience and skill in pleasuring another woman...

Now the best part of the whole night isn't me blowing that promoter out of the water, it isn't me reasserting myself in my girlfriend's eyes, it isn't the crazy romp on the bed, but it is when it it's all over. Literally a minute after we finish, HBCutiesmile starts getting comfortable on my bed. That's when my girlfriend gets up and says, "It's getting late, are you gonna call her a cab?" Ice cold I tell you! Now I don't care for keeping our target around either, but my girlfriend's bluntness makes my jaw drop. Boy did Cliff have a good laugh when I told him this! So we call her a cab and send her on her way.

The next day she texts my girlfriend saying she had fun and that we should all go out for drinks again. My girl and I decide we prefer fresh meat...especially those that are more experienced in satisfying other women.